

CONDÉ NAST
BRITAIN | PROPERTY

NOTEBOOK

A monthly look at the latest property news,
at home and abroad

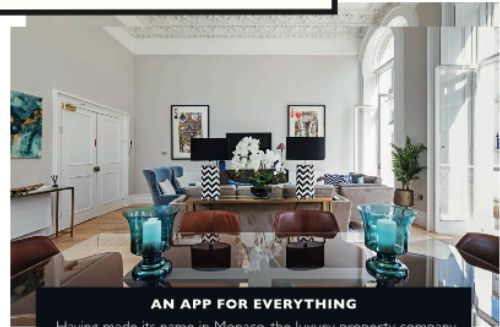

BY ROSEMARY BROOKE

PHOTOGRAPH: andreas@einsiedel.com

A LITERARY HISTORY

Forming part of the Wandsworth Road conservation area, the 19th-century Turnchapel Mews is steeped in old-fashioned charm. Spanning over 4,000 square feet, with a huge roof terrace, this elegant lateral property has big rooms with wooden beams and lots of natural light. Roald Dahl wrote Matilda and The Witches in this mews – hopefully the property proves as inspiring to its new owner. For more information, visit www.charliewillis.london

AN APP FOR EVERYTHING

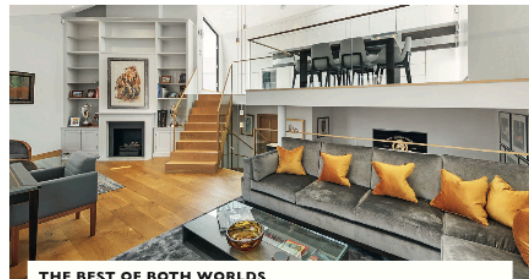

Having made its name in Monaco, the luxury property company REDD opened a London office in 2018. Now, it's launched an app, REDD Concierge, to enhance its property-management business. Aimed at the prime central London market, it helps clients to streamline everything from housekeeping services to property maintenance. For more information, visit www.redd-realestate.com

EXCITING DEVELOPMENTS

For over 30 years, Northacre has been creating new developments at some of the most sought-after addresses in prime central London. Its latest projects include The Broadway, a striking new building in the heart of Westminster (set to complete at the end of 2021) and No. 1 Palace Street, which is due to be finished this year and has views over the gardens of Buckingham Palace. For more information, visit www.northacre.com

The Broadway

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

As John D Wood & Co's Battersea office celebrates its fortieth birthday, it continues to market some of the area's most desirable properties. Kersley Mews, the only Victorian mews in Battersea, retains plenty of period atmosphere, from the wall lamps to the cobbled street. This house is a charming blend of old and new. For more information, visit www.johndwood.co.uk

GREEN AND PLEASANT LAND

Finca Cortesin on Spain's Costa del Sol recently won a Condé Nast Traveller Readers' Choice Award, and no wonder – it's one of the finest luxury resorts in Europe. It recently launched 16 new 'Green 10' villas – a reference to its world-class golf course – three of which are available to rent, offering guests a private retreat while allowing full access to the resort's fantastic amenities. For more information, visit www.fincacortesin.com